About the event

AWS Community Day Italy is a one-day technical conference driven and organized by the AWS Community in Italy, envisioned as a "Meetup of Meetups."

This community-led event features talks and sessions by community speakers and leaders, aiming to foster the opportunity for attendees to exchange experiences and insights.

Open to everyone from developers and students to tech professionals curious about AWS services, it provides an excellent platform for those already using AWS or interested in learning more to connect and share knowledge.

Organized by volunteers passionate about technology, it is an ideal setting for meeting like-minded individuals and exploring new AWS services.
