About the event

AWS Community Day Italy is a one-day technical conference driven and organized by the local Italian AWS User Groups. The event is the "Meetup of Meetups."

This community-led event features talks and sessions by community speakers and leaders, aiming to foster the opportunity for attendees to exchange experiences and insights.

Open to everyone from developers and students to tech professionals curious about AWS services, it provides an excellent platform for those already using AWS or interested in learning more to connect and share knowledge.

Although the event remains entirely community-driven, for the 2026 edition Eleventh is the official event partner, directly involved in all fiscal matters related to sponsor invoicing, agreements, administrative processes and more.
